DRESS CAUGHT

And Aged Woman Is Most Seriously Burned.

Mrs. Lou Stantey, aged 65, of the Hill section in North Christian, was probably fatally burned Friday morning when her clothing caught fire while she was rendering up lard in the yard of her home. Her dress caught from the fire under the kettle and she was soon enveloped in flames. Before help reached her all of her clothing had been burned off and she was horribly burned. At present her injuries were not deemed to be fatal.

WILD GEESE.

Several Killed on Pond in South Christian.

Wiley and Sam Stroube, sons of Mr. W. A. Stroube, of the Oak Grove neighborhood, have killed eight wild geese within the past few weeks, the eighth bird being bagged in time for Thanksgiving dinner. Flocks of geese which have been passing south for some time, feed at night in the green wheat fields of that section.
The boys stationed themselves at the edge of a large pond and when the birds came down for water they made easy marks on the floating surface.

The city council has undergone a complete change and the new council held its first meeting last night at the call of the Mayor. The old council held its committee meeting Thursday night and on Friday night the regular meeting was held, the first Friday coming before the first Monday, which gave the first meeting in the month to the outgoing body.

The usual reports were submitted and filed.

The appropriations were nearly $2800, as follows:

Budget for November.....$391 72
Dr. J. E. Stone..... 200.00
Judge T. P. Cook, law fee..... 150 00

The changes in the bank lists were due to the fact that the two banks gave their lists in at full valuation while the other banks were allowed a discount of 20 per cent, making a difference of $53.00.

Chairman Galbreath of the Workhouse committee made a highly satisfactory report, showing that for 11 months of the current year the Workhouse had been operated at a profit of $385. It has never before paid expenses.

At a late hour, the Council adjournd until Saturday night to approve the minutes and hear a few reports on minor matters. This meeting was the final one of the council and was closed with expressions of good feeling and mutual regard for each other by the Mayor and each of the Councilmen.

Councilmen Higgins and Randle had served 4 years, councilmen Wood, Barnett and Lebkuecher 2 years, Councilman Galbreath 8 years in all and Councilman Glass 15 years consecutively. The Mayor in bidding them goodbye called attention to the good work they had done in building the $100,000 high school without increasing taxes, in paying off $31,500 of the bonded debt, practically all of it; in spending $30,000 on the streets, $5,000 on the Cemetery, $10,000 on the Fire Department, $3,000 on river improvements and bridges and $24,- 000 for water and street lighting; in settling the disputed franchise matter with the Cumberland Telephone Co., in authorizing the L. & N.
Railroad's radical changes in grade and in providing many other improvements in all departments during the last two years. One of the notable innovations was oiling the streets at an expense of about $3,000.
He congratulated them upon their good record and thanked them for their kindness and courtesy to him at all times.

The Future of The Elks Memo-

ROLL OF THE DEPARTED.

Large Crowd Attends The Sacred Service at The Tabernacle.

The annual sacred session of the Hopkinsville Lodge No. 545 B. P. O.
E. was held Sunday afternoon at the Union Tabernacle and was attended by a large crowd.

The Elks marched from their lodge room to the Tabernacle in a body and the usual ritualistic exercises were gone through with, Exalted Ruler L. H. Davis presiding.

The meeting opened with a selection by the Gehlman Orchestra.

The duties of the officers were defined from the several stations in the hall and the entire lodge gave the sign of grief.

Then came the opening ode followed by the invocation by the Chaplain, Rev. Geo. C. Abbott.

After another musical selection,
Hon. John F. Bible was introduced as the orator of the occasion.

Mr. Bible's enlogy was an address of deep thought, sublime sentiment and beauty of diction. The speaker was easy and self-possessed and at once made a most pleasing impression upon the audience, which was maintained throughout the address.
Mr. Bible's reputation as an eloquent and accomplished speaker had preceded him and this reputation was more than maintained. Taken as a whole his speech was the best heard here on a similar occasion for years.

The concluding number of the session was a solo by Miss Lowe, of the faculty of Bethel College. She possesses a sweet and well cultivated voice and her singing was a most pleasing feature of the exercises.
The people of Hopkinsville may esteem themselves fortunate to have so charming an addition to the city's vocal musicians as this highly accomplished young lady.

Miss Elizabeth Colton, of Easthampton, N. Y., one of the most remarkable linguists in the world, who a few days ago received and accepted by cable a proposal of marriage from Dr. David B. Spooner in India, will sail for India by way of England from New York December 9 and will be married in India the middle of January. She speaks 54 languages. It is not said which one she said "yes" in.

She Stayed in Bed.

In a Texas—"Ever since I became a woman," writes Mrs. Evans of this place, "I suffered from womanly troubles. Last fall, I got so bad, I had to stay in bed for nearly a week every month. Since I have taken Doan's, I feel better than I have for years." You can rely on Doan's. It acts on the womanly organs and helps the system to regain its normal state of health, in a natural way. Prepared especially for women, it prevents womanly pains, acting on the cause, and builds up womanly strength in a natural way. Purely vegetable. Mild, but certain in action. Try it.

Gored to Death.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 2—Robert Hancock, a farmer living at Waverly, Ky., was attacked by a vicious bull today and gored to death. He is survived by a family.

The first assistance given to Hancock came when his son, a stripling in short trousers, ran to the scene and boldly jumped onto the bull with a club. With repeated blows across the nose the lad drove the maddened animal away and a negro then assisted the son to carry the father's body into the house. He died soon afterwards.

Of Interest to Book Lovers.

This is an age of books, and every intelligent reader feels the need of keeping informed on the best among the thousands of new volumes that come from the press every year. The wisest way to do this is to subscribe for a good metropolitan newspaper that prints daily reviews of the most important books as fast as they appear. THE CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD is generally conceded to be the leading item in daily west of New York. It gives more attention to books than any other Chicago paper, treating them as a legitimate theme of every day news and covering the whole range of current literature as if it believed books were actually as interesting to its readers, as, say, the pork market or the latest murder. Its literary department, under the editorship of Edwin L. Shuman, is undoubtedly the most complete and the most ably conducted in the West. Mr. Shuman's literary judgments are eagerly sought by authors themselves and are quoted all over the country, and so are those of his able corps of skilled assistants. Walter Littlefield's weekly news letter from New York keeps THE RECORD-HERALD readers informed on all the forthcoming books of importance, and his summary of all the leading magazine features at the beginning of each month is very valuable. Naturally persons of literary tastes prefer THE RECORD-HERALD to all other Chicago morning papers.

Shakespeare in 1793.

What, we wonder, would happen to the London manager nowadays who should dare to put on the stage such a version of a Shakespearean tragedy as was played in Ireland a hundred years ago? Mrs. Earle in her book, "Memoirs and Memories," gives a Dublin play bill in 1793, which is worth quoting.

The play was "the tragedy of Hamlet," originally written and composed by the celebrated Dan Hayes of Limerick and inserted in Shakespeare's works." The title role is taken by a gentleman "who between the acts will perform several solos on the patent bagpipe, which performs two tunes at the same time."

Woman University Professor.

The first lady university professor in Germany has just been created in the person of Mile. Gertrude Jeanne Wockler, Ph. D., of Berne university, who has been appointed assistant professor of physics at Lepel university. It is true that a year ago Countess von der Linden, privat docent at Bonn university, also received the title of professor, but the Prussian authorities opposed her nomination to the chair of assistant professor of zoology. Mile. Wockler, who has been more successful, is a Swiss, thirty-three years of age, and will be the youngest professor in the only Saxon university. She has for several years taken a very active part in the feminine emancipation movement.

NINETEENTH NATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS

DECEMBER 5 TO 9.

The object and purpose of this Congress can best be expressed in its motto, "Save the forests, store the floods, reclaim the deserts, make homes on the land," to which might be added "drain the swamp and make homes on the land."

There are in the United States 75,000,000 acres of swamp land, non-productive, a menace to health, and a deterrent to immigration. 75,000,000 acres divided into 40-acre farms means homes for 1,875,000 families, or approximately 10,000,000 of our citizenship. This land when reclaimed will be as healthful as land that has always been dry, and will be the most productive of all lands, because it is composed of the rich soil brought down by the rivers, deposited and mixed with the decayed vegetation for centuries.

On account of the diversified ownership and state complications it would seem that the United States Government is logically the authority to redeem these lands along the lines pursued in the reclamation of the arid lands of the West.

The results of irrigation of the arid lands of the Far West, and the possibilities of the drainage of the swamp lands of the Great South, and elsewhere, will be given particular attention in an elaborate program that has been planned for this congress. Delegates from all parts of the country, as well as foreign representatives, have been invited, and a goodly attendance is expected. Land Show, Nov. 18 to Dec. 9.

An ocular demonstration of the agricultural and horticultural development of lands throughout the United States. An attendance of over 400,000 is predicted this year. Be sure and visit the Illinois Central Exhibit of products grown in the two great southern states of Louisiana and Mississippi.

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

First—

"Kentuckian"

A virile, new newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Issues of the day are handled without fear or favor. You will find in this paper an up-to-date department for each member of the family. Clean, honest, straightforward—it is a paper your family should not be without.

Second—

Technical World Magazine

is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to lull away a summer's afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is profusely illustrated, and tells in a simple and interesting way of the discoveries of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the feats of engineers and explorers, and the opening of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says: "I have just chanced upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I want more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you herewith check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

Third—

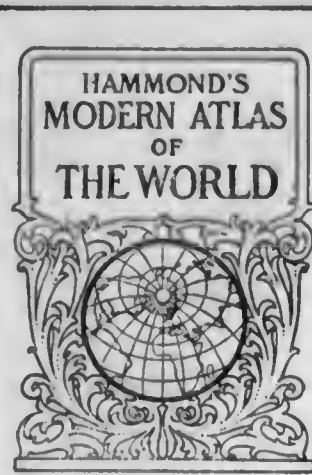

A Fine Atlas

* This one is just off the presses. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures, 128 pages of 3 color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 13 1/2. Bound in stiff linen—Silver Leaf Title—printed on heavy plate paper. Sells regularly for $3.00. A splendid gift.

ALL THREE Only $3.80

Special arrangement with Technical World Magazine and the publishers of this Atlas make this offer possible. But it is very strictly limited. You must act immediately.

JEW'S FLOCK TO PALESTINE

No New Colonies Were Founded This Year, but the Influx Still Continues.

No new colonies were founded in Palestine this year with the exception of Kinereth, a large farm founded by the Palestine Land Development company with the assistance of the national fund, which employs many Jewish laborers. It is hoped that these laborers will become independent colonists by and by.

Work has also begun preparing the land for the co-operative colony of Doctor Oppenheimer, which was named Merhabiah. A large number of new olive trees were planted this year in the Herzl forest. The Agudath Netain obtained its charter from the Turkish government and is continuing to cover new land with all kinds of plants. Thus more and more of the arid Palestinian soil is being reclaimed to new life.

Jewish immigration into the cities of Palestine is much more evident. Wealthy Jews from Russia are visiting Palestine in large numbers. It is true that not all of them find the possibilities in Palestine which they anticipated, but many of them, who are more enthusiastic and whose desire to settle there is strong, succeed in finding various activities and they settle there.

These Jews, who have been used to a life of comfort in Europe, have joined some of the old settlers and have founded a new suburb, a new town really, near Jaffa which they named Tel-Aviv. This town, built on the American style, inasmuch as it sprang out as if by magic within one year on the sand of the seashore, is very beautiful. It is well planned, has wide paved streets lined with trees, every house is fitted up with water pipes and bathrooms, and they are built in a specified Oriental style, surrounded by a garden.—Maceabean.

KETCHUP EDITOR IS MISLED

Publishes Recipe for Relish That Does Not Call for Spices, and Apologizes.

An Emporia housewife informs the Gazette that W. R. Nelson's recipe for tomato ketchup is no good. "It's a sin to publish such a formula," said the enraged housewife. "Young matrons, without experience in such matters, doubtless have been led to spoil great quantities of tomatoes by following Mr. Nelson's directions. Why, the recipe doesn't call for spices of any kind! Imagine tomato ketchup without spices in it!"

The Gazette will feel profoundly humiliated and distressed if any readers have had bad luck with their ketchup through its agency, but the blame, if there is blame, rests upon Mr. Nelson, who assured the ketchup editor that his recipe had been thoroughly tested in his private laboratory. He says that Charles Blakesley drank a pint of it at one sitting without suffering ill effects, and this shows that the ketchup is at least wholesome, if it isn't savory.

FLORAL FUNGUS.

A vegetable curiosity is being exhibited in a Tarrytown grocery store in the shape of an old rotten stump from which springs a snow white lily, says the New York Press. The stump, which has been lying undisturbed for several months in the cellar of S. H. Crocker's house, is as porous with decay as a sponge. From the heart of it springs a slender yellowish-white stem nearly a foot long, crowned with a single calla lily, the cup and the end of the waxen scroll being perfect in shape, pure white, and the size of the ordinary home grown calla. It is an entirely new species of fungus, pronounced by florists to be a hybrid between the cellar mushroom and the tropical orchid. Hundreds of persons visit the grocery store each day to see the wonderful "nature fake," and florists have traveled from all over the country to examine it.

DIDN'T LIKE THE CUSTOM.

"What did you think of the professor's lecture, Ezzy?" "Didn't care much for it."

"What's the reason?" "Well, after I got home I wuz tellin' my wife what he told us 'bout Dalmatia's beautiful customs, an' how the Dalmatian wife always stands up when her husband comes into the room."

"Well?" "Well, my wife stood up an' hit me over the head with a chair leg."

MOST CONSERVATIVE OF MEN

When Charles A. Hanna Makes a Statement, Bankers Know It is Absolutely Correct.

When Charles A. Hanna makes a statement you may be certain that it will withstand assault by hammer, file and acid, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times Star. He is the most conservative man in New York, and that is a fairly broad statement of fact. Not long ago he was named as auditor for the New York Clearing House association, largely because of that peculiarity of his. "We know," said a banker, "that when Hanna goes out to examine a bank he will make no statement whatever until that statement is justified. And whatever statement he makes will stand without the dotting of an i or the crossing of a t."

Some years ago Hanna was named by the United States government as the receiver for the two big banks that Charles W. Morse ruined here. Part of his duty was to give out to the press each day a statement of the day's findings. "He was the most cautious man I ever knew," said one of the men on the job. "He made me think of old Uncle Eph Haskins, who held the belt for conservatism in the Iowa corn belt. One day a flock of sheep passed along the road."

"Pears like them sheep been sheared, Uncle Eph," said a friend.

"Well," said that apostle of conservatism, "it do look like that—from this side."

"Once we called on Hanna with a question. 'You'll have to restate that,' said Hanna. We restated it. 'I don't like to answer that in that form,' said Hanna. 'Can't you make it a little less sweeping?' So we made it a little less sweeping. 'You understand, said Hanna, 'that I must not be quoted in regard to this matter. We told him that we thoroughly understood that. Each of us, individually, and the whole of us as a body, swore that we would not quote Mr. Hanna. 'Now,' said he, 'restate your question.' So we restated the question."

"I never heard anything of this until you boys came here today," said he. And he wasn't trying to be funny. That's his disposition."

NOT ASHAMED OF HIS ORIGIN

Incident That Seems to Show Whole-some Spirit in English Aristocratic Society.

For all the prevailing belief that an Englishman loves a duke above all else, it is nevertheless true that English society has always been affected by a sound and wholesome spirit of democracy. An extract from Lady Chatterton's diary gives a little passage that reflects credit on all concerned, including titled personages: "Last week I met Sir Francis Chantrey and Lattrell at Rogers' house. Lady Dufferin, Mrs. Damer, Lord Lansdowne and Lord Glenelg were there. After breakfast, Chantrey pointed out a sideboard, and said to Rogers: 'Do you remember a poor little fat boy in a common workman's dress, who came one morning, many, many years ago, to take some order about that sideboard?' 'Yes, I do,' said Rogers, 'for I thought what a fine head and intelligent look the poor boy had.' 'Well, he is the now celebrated sculptor, who not only goes to all the best houses in London, but gives parties that people are so good as to call pleasant, where all the highest and most intellectual people honor him with their presence. Can you guess who it is? Well,' Chantrey added, while his honest face beamed with fun, 'that cabinet maker's poor little apprentice was myself! Everybody present was pleased at his candor and straightforwardness, which was the more to be admired because few had known of his obscure youth or of the disadvantages of education that he had overcome."

DELICATE SUBJECT.

"What is your favorite pastime?" asked the interviewer.

"Ask me anything else," replied Senator Sorghum. "The tastes of my constituents are so distributed to baseball, tennis, golf, bridge whist and pinocle that I wouldn't dare to announce a preference."

SYMPATHIES TOUCHED.

"What did you do when you met the train robber face to face?"

"I explained that I had been interviewed by the ticket seller, the luggage carriers, the dining car waiters and the sleeping car porters and borrowed a dollar from him."

There is a fear among Democratic leaders that the controversy between Stanley and Littleton over the steel inquiry may result in a split in the Democratic party, and leaders are making every effort to patch up differences. The inquiry may be called off for the present.

Hopkinsville, noted for its many good speakers, was drawn upon this year by three cities for Elks Memorial addresses and all of them were good ones. Mr. John F. Bible spoke in Hopkinsville, Rev. Calvin M. Thompson in Paducah and Mr. Thos. C. Underwood in Middlesboro. And the city could easily have supplied a high class of oratory for a dozen other cities.

A race riot is threatened at Mannford, Okla., following the murder of a white man and wounding of another by negroes.

Gompers made a big mistake when he accused Burns of "planting" the prosecution against the McNamaras. Burns' present intention to go to the bottom is causing Gompers much concern, in view of the fact that organized labor is clamoring for a purging of the unions of criminals and a punishment of those who have bled the laboring men to commit and cover up crimes that are a menace to the government itself.

The country is realizing more and more every day the great service Wm. J. Burns has performed to the whole country in uncovering the anarchists who, according to one of them, have dynamited 76 structures in four years and destroyed many lives. John D. Fredericks, the prosecuting attorney at Los Angeles, has also proven himself the man of the hour and the movement started is destined to uncover the whole conspiracy and fill the federal and state penitentiaries with criminals of high and low degree. It is a pity there are not more Fredericks in public office to do their duty.

Caught bribing prospective jurors, no wonder the attorneys had the McNamaras confess at Los Angeles to stop further proceedings. In at least one instance the law has triumphed.

D. R. MASON
Ladies and gentlemen—I had a hard time making my crop of corn this year. As you can all see I am not big enough to do all of the work required in making a crop of corn and, like some other boys, I know I didn't always feel like doing that which I could do. Consequently I had to hire most of my work done and as my father and brother were the best hands I knew I hired them to do it and I think if father keeps me going at the rate he has me started at, by the time I am 21 I shall have him fully paid. I planted my corn the fifteenth of May and for the first few weeks had sufficient rain, then the drouth came on, which lasted for several weeks, although my corn was not damaged by it to a very great extent. The yield would have been some better I am sure although it had not begun to silk and tassel until a few days before the rain came the 10th of July. My corn grew fine from then on and my prospects seemed to be fine until one day father's old red hog got loose and of course he didn't stop until he found my corn, and from that time on every time a hog on the place got loose, red, black or spotted, he made a beeline for my corn. I know by that, that I made good corn so far as taste goes for my patch of corn and brother's were side by side in the same field, but the hogs always went to mine. I am sure if that old red hog could be one of the judges in this contest he would at least think my corn worth considering and I hope that some of you will, for I assure you I did my very best.

EXTENDING THE SPAN OF LIFE

Exercise, Fresh Air and Good Plain Foods Will Do Wonders With Any Man.

While the death rate of persons under forty years of age has markedly decreased since 1880, the death rate of persons over forty years of age has markedly increased.

Why? One reason, the New York Evening Mail remarks, is that science has done comparatively little against the noncommunicable diseases. Then medical science has nursed along weak constitutions which in earlier periods would have succumbed in infancy or adolescence, and has carried them across the boundary of middle age. A third reason, of course, is the increasing complexity of life, which brings heavier burdens and stresses and overwhelms some persons as soon as the impetus of their youthful vitality is spent. A fourth reason is that people do not replenish this vitality and prepare for the problems of middle life.

There is really nothing cheaper than the attainment and preservation of good health. Fresh air and sleep are nature's free gifts, and bodily activity a normal impulse of the blood, while it costs less to eat frugally than to overeat.

Might Not Be Alive

McMinnville, Tenn. — Mrs. Otie Jett, of this place, writes: "I don't believe I would be living today, if it hadn't been for Cardui. I lay in bed for 27 days, and the doctor came every day, but he did me no good. Finally, he advised an operation, but I would not consent, and instead took Cardui. Now I am going about the house, doing my work, and even doing my washing. Cardui worked wonders in my case. I am in better health than for five years." Cardui is a strengthening tonic for women. It relieves pain, tones up the nerves, builds strength. Try it. At your druggist's.

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The best part of the day is the evening, when the whole family is gathered together around the lamp.

The old days of the smoky fireplace and flickering candle are gone forever. In their place have come the convenient oil stove and the indispensable Rayo Lamp.

There are to-day, in the United States alone, more than 3,000,000 of these Rayo lamps, giving their clear, white light to more than 3,000,000 homes.

Other lamps cost more, but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. It has become so popular we may almost call it "the official lamp of the American family."

The Rayo is made of solid brass, with handsome nickel finish—an ornament anywhere.

Ask your dealer for a Rayo lamp; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the

M'NAMARAS PLEAD GUILTY

Fear Causes Dynamiters to Confess To Save Their Necks.

ONE WRECKED BRIDGE PLANT

New Move Made on Advice of Attorney Darrow Who Had Lost Hope.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 1.—James B. McNamara pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree in Judge Walter Bordwell's court today. His brother, John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, entered a plea of guilty to having dynamited the Llewellyn Iron Works in Los Angeles on Christmas day, 1910.

James B. McNamara's confession clears up absolutely the tragedy of the explosion and fire which at 1:07 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 1, 1910, wrecked the plant of the Los Angeles Times at First and Broadway and caused the death of twenty-one persons.

For nineteen of these deaths the McNamara brothers were indicted, and J. B. McNamara was on trial specifically for the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, a machinist, whose body was found nearer than that of any other to the spot where the dynamite was supposed to have been placed.

Dec. 5 was set as the date to sentence both men, and it is expected District Attorney John D. Fredericks will ask for life imprisonment for James B. McNamara, the confessed murderer, and probably fourteen years for his brother. The men's lives are considered saved. The great contention that the Los Angeles Times was not dynamited is dead beyond resurrection or argument.

BURNS IS VINDICATED.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—"I consider the outcome a great personal vindication for me," said William J. Burns here today, when told by the Associated Press of the sensational developments in the McNamara case at Los Angeles.

"Especially," he added, "after men occupying such exalted positions as Samuel Gompers and others have repeatedly charged me with 'planting' the dynamite at Los Angeles. Following them every socialist paper and every labor paper have so often printed stories of 'frame ups' in the case that some good people were beginning to think that the prosecution was not 'on the square.'"

"I had absolutely no personal feeling against either defendant. I was employed by the mayor of Los Angeles to investigate this case. My sole purpose was to make a thorough inquiry. The evidence has been just what I said it was—'overwhelming.'"

FAR-REACHING EFFECT.

After Mr. Burns had read reports of the action in court he said:

"The effect of this will be far-reaching. I think that the outcome of the McNamara case will result in summary action by the body of organized labor, by which the radical element will be suppressed. It will result, I believe, in ending such outrages as the one at Los Angeles."

"Such men as John Mitchell will control the policies of organized labor in the future. Nine-tenths of the total membership of the labor body in this country was absolutely out of sympathy with the McNamara brothers."

"But the plea of guilty entered by the McNamara brothers today does not close the case in my opinion. There are others involved and they may be arrested at any time."

"I have absolute information that certain radicals in the labor movement were ready to do anything to save the McNamara brothers. This is what Attorney Darrow was concerned about when he said he 'feared further bloodshed unless we obliterated the incident from Los Angeles at once.'"

"I was not surprised, particularly, when told that the McNamaras had pleaded guilty. We had evidence which positively closed every avenue of escape and they know this."

"However, if the reports that J. J. McNamara is to get off with a light sentence are true, I shall be greatly disappointed. He deserves heavy punishment, if anyone ever did."

The Plot Thickens.

Los Angeles, Cal. Dec. 4 —Assistant District Attorney Ford said yesterday that the United States and State Governments would co-operate to uncover one of the most gigantic plots that has ever existed in this country. Prominent labor leaders, he said, are under surveillance for alleged connection with the Los Angeles Times dynamite conspiracy.

NO BLIZZARDS IN SIGHT.

Some Weather Due About Friday But Not Extreme.

There are no indications of unusually low temperature the coming week in any part of the country, according to the weekly bulletin of the weather bureau, issued in Washington Sunday night. The bulletin says:

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the United States will appear on the north Pacific coast Tuesday and cross the middle West Thursday or Friday. This disturbance will be preceded by a general rise in temperature and will be accompanied by rains and snow. It will be followed by colder weather."

Pellagra Puzzles.

After many months of investigation of pellagra in the southern states, the scientists of the public health and marine hospital service at Washington are in as much doubt as ever as to the cause of the scourge. Meanwhile the disease seems to be gaining, and it has been reported that nearly every physician in South Carolina has from five to fifteen cases in his private practice.

Cottonseed oil, Indian corn, certain classes of vegetables and a recently discovered gnat are among the supposed causes, but the disease still is a mystery to the scientists.

Mexican Vengeance.

Thirteen rebels captured in Yucatan, Mexico, were shot without trial by Madera's state troops. This is the same policy Madero complained of when he was an insurrecto.

TRAGEDIES OF THE STRAITS

Highway Bearing Magellan's Name Has a Terrible Record of Wrecks and Deaths.

The history of the toll of the Strait of Magellan began when the first primitive canoe was capsized and fatally spilled its dark-skinned Amerindians into the icy waters of this southern archipelago. The first white man's toll was paid on his maiden passage through the strait by the man whose name the strait now bears, and the price exacted was one of the flower of his fleet and the desertion of others, which turned tail for home before the bitter blasts from the western unknown.

Since that long 300 years ago these wild, forbidding regions have exacted their heavy toll of life and property, from every maritime nation of the globe which has sought to use these "end of the earth" as a highway. The very names given by explorers to these parts are a clue to its history and character: Mount Darwin, Beagle channel, Mount Sarmiento, Desolation island, Thieves bay, Port Famine, Mount Misery, Unfit bay, Last Hope inlet—in many cases spelling tragedy in its worst forms.—Outing.

TOO STUPID

Fred—I understand that you called on Miss Sweet again last night.

George—Yes. We had quite a jolly time. As we sat alone in front of the open fire she brought me some popcorn and a popper.

Fred—Did you take the hint?

George—Oh yes. I popped the corn.

NO REASON FOR IT

You are Shown the Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back,
the annoyance of urinary disorders,
the dangers of serious kidney illness when relief is possible and proof given that these ills can be cured.
The following is convincing proof

T. F. Redd, Cadiz & Hopkinsville Road, Cadiz, Ky., says: "I have no hesitation in pronouncing Doan's Kidney Pills to be the best kidney remedy I have ever used. My kidneys were weak and the secretions were so frequent in passage that it was impossible for me to obtain a y rest. I had pains in my back and a heavy feeling through my loins which seemed as if so much lead were weighing me down. I was in a miserable condition and although I used many kidney remedies and consulted physicians, I received no benefit.
Doan's Kidney Pills helped me at once and it was not long before they restored me to good health."

WHY PRAIRIE IS TREELESS

Iowa Expert Finds This Is Due Not to Soil or Topography, but to Climate.

Prof. B. Shimek of the State University of Iowa has been studying this question in Iowa, where the treeless prairie originally covered more than seven-eighths of the total area of the state. He finds that the absence of trees is not due primarily to the soil or the topography, nor to such causes as prairie fires,
the former abundance of the bison, etc., but is an effect of climate. Moreover, it is not due to a deficient rainfall so much as to an excessive rate of evaporation. "The prairie areas are uniformly so situated that they are fully exposed to the factors which cause rapid evaporation, namely, the sun and the wind. During much of the year they may present conditions quite favorable to plant growth, but there are seasons and there are portions of the year, especially in midsummer, when evaporation and consequent desiccation become so extreme that only those plants which are especially adapted to dry regions can survive."—Scientific American.

NOTHING TO EAT

The Tramp—Doctor, I have difficulty in swallowing.
The Doctor—Due to the throat?
The Tramp—No, it's due to not having anything to swallow.

SPOTTED.

"We Americans—those of us, that is, who don't buy our clothes in London—are recognized abroad by our coats' broad shoulders and baggy trousers' width and by the little humps on the toe-caps of our boots."

The speaker, Richard Harding
Davis, was lunching at the Bellevue-Stratford in Philadelphia. With a laugh he resumed:

"Two American young men, as they strolled among the tall, thin Englishmen and Englishwomen in Piccadilly one morning, perceived that every one recognized their nationality.

"I wonder," said the first, "how they know we're Americans?"

"The other, more sophisticated, answered:

"By the United States of our clothes, of course."

THE BROKEN HEART.

"The party will recover from this check," said Mayor Craig of Covington, apropos of a temporary setback.
"They say the party will be broken.
I'd reply that it will be about as much broken as young Lansing's heart."

"A chorus girl who had refused young Lansing said to a friend:

"I have broken his heart, I fear."

"You have. You certainly have," the friend replied. "You've broken
it right in half."

"In half? What do you mean?"

"I mean that he takes two girls out to supper every night now."

TO STUDY SPONGES.

Outside the harbor of Sfax, Tunisia, in the shallow water of the clear Mediterranean, is situated a biological laboratory for the study of sponges. It is one of the most unique in the world, and affords opportunity for observing the development of the sponge from tiny larva, so small that it can only be studied under a microscope, until five years later, it has developed into a perfect sponge.

ORGY FOR THE CANNIBALS

New Guinea Natives Once Caught 326 Chinese and Ate All but One of Them.

Probably the biggest cannibal orgy on record is one of which Miss Beatrice Grimshaw tells in her book, "The New Guinea." "In 1858 a shipload of Chinese was being taken down to Australia. The vessel was wrecked upon a reef close to Rossel island (New Guinea). The officers escaped in boats, but were never after heard of. As for the Chinese, numbering 326, the natives captured them and put them on a small barren island where they had no food and no means of getting away. They kept their prisoners supplied with food from the mainland and every now and then carried away a few of them to eat, until all but one old man had been devoured. This one succeeded eventually in getting away, and told something of the story, which seems to have met with general disbelief. True it is, however, on the evidence of the sons of those who did the deed."

JEWELRY AND ART THEFTS

Great Robberies of This Kind Often Nearly Synchronize, Says London Paper.

Curious that great jewel robberies and great art thefts often nearly synchronize, comments the London Chronicle. Gainsborough's "Duchess" was stolen in May, 1876, a few weeks after Hatton-garden was relieved of £25,000 worth of precious stones. Mr. Wertheimer's pictures were lifted in February, 1907, and a month or two later £50,000 of state jewels were taken from Dublin castle.

In January, 1908, Queen Alexandra's miniatures disappeared, £5,000 worth of jewelry disappearing soon after from Wigmore street. The "Turners" which were bagged in March this year immediately preceded the vanishing of £2,000 worth of gems in a train journey from Rugby to Euston. And now we have the case of the Louvre "Da Vinci" and the Dalston haul of diamonds.

BUT COULD HE?

"How absurd some of the jokes about married people are!" says he. "Aren't they?" laughs his fiancée. "I read some the other day about married men having to wash the dishes, and that sort of thing." "Perfectly ridiculous!" "As if a man ever would have to wash the dishes after he got married!" "Silly!" "Seems to me they could find something funnier than that to print." "Indeed, yes?" "How does anybody ever happen to write such nonsense?" "But, dearest—" "Yes, my angel?" "You know how to wash dishes, don't you?"—Judge's Library.

FEAT OF CLIMBING.

A wonderful feat of rock climbing in the Grindewald, Switzerland, was accomplished recently by Mr. Percy H. Thorp. He succeeded in climbing up the face of the Eiger to the Eigerwand station of the Jungfrau railway (a tunnel railway) and clambered in through the aperture by which travelers admire the view. This aperture is situated at a great height above the valley, and the rock wall reaching up to it is almost as steep and smooth as the side of a house. The feat has never been accomplished before.

A CONSCIENTIOUS SENTRY.

An officer at a state camp decided to see for himself how his sentries were doing their duty. He was somewhat surprised at overhearing the following:

"Halt! Who goes there?"
"Friend—with a bottle."
"Pass, friend. Halt, bottle."—Everybody's.

GIVING HIM THE HOOK.

"You will excuse me, madame," said little Binks to the fair lady at the reception, "but really I didn't catch your name."

"How funny," said the lady. "It's Fish." Harper's Weekly.

THE REASON.

"Why do people always wait for the verdict of a jury in a murder case with breathless suspense?"

"Because a hanging matter is always cause of breathless suspense."

FUND FOR RUINED GAMBLERS

Monte Carlo Casino Company Sends Home Those Who Have Lost Everything.

The Casino company, which controls the notorious gambling resort at Monte Carlo, have provided a fund to send home gamblers who have lost their all in the gambling rooms. The granting of the viatique is constantly being carried on. The broken gambler who presents himself at a small office in the central saloon of the casino is, if he is found to be a bone-fide loser, handed the price of a second-class railway ticket to his home, whether his home be in London, New York or Jerusalem, and enough extra money for his meals on the journey. An Englishman is usually given from $40 to $60. Each broken gambler who receives the viatique signs a receipt for the money handed to him, surrenders his card of admission to the casino, and is told that he will not be allowed again to enter the gambling rooms until he has paid back the loan. Every year the company assists losers in this way to the extent of nearly $10,000.—Oscar Fichtel, in National Magazine.

IS GREAT PLACE FOR DUCKS

Stinger Island Is Very Small, but It Is Valued at Sum of $15,000.

Little Stinger island, only 10 by 22 feet, will be sold this week for $15,000, representing the biggest price paid for a piece of land of such small dimensions ever to be recorded in Princess Anne county.

Although little Stinger island contains only 220 square feet of land, rising from the waters of Back bay, Va., its value lies in the fact that it forms a natural battery for shooting ducks and is located at the head to the great Virginia and Carolina ducking grounds.

The title includes a strip of land on the mainland which, however, has no particular value except for the erection of a club house.—Norfolk Landmark.

HE COULDN'T UNDERSTAND.

"I was coming down town late last night on a Sixth avenue car," said a man at the Imperial, "when a man who spoke with an accent was asked by the conductor for his fare. The passenger handed the conductor a piece of paper. It turned out to be a check for $10. The ticket taker shook his head and handed it back. 'I can't take this,' he said. 'I ain't no bank.' 'What, ain't it no good?' demanded the passenger. The passenger did not seem to be able to understand why the conductor would not take the check and give him $9.95 in change, and it was only when he was threatened with being put off the car that he delved into his pockets and produced a nickel. All the rest of the way he kept taking the check out of his pocket, shaking his head at it and putting the paper back."

SUPERIOR TO THE JOB.

The tramp leaned against the door jamb, while Miss Annabel Sheldon peered out at him through the screen, and he gazed past her kitchen table.

"You look strong," said Miss Annabel. "Are you equal to the task of sawing and splitting half a cord of wood?"

"Equal to it, madam?" said the tramp. "The word is inadequate. I am superior to it," and a moment later the sunshine played on the door jamb, where his figure had so lately leaned, and down in the road drifted a cloud of dust, raised by his patient, willing feet.—Youth's Companion.

NIAGARA'S DEFECT.

"There," cried Jonathan to a newly arrived Irishman, as he waved his hand in the direction of the Horse-shoe falls at Niagara: "there now, isn't it wonderful?"

"Wonderful? What's wonderful about that?"

"Why, to see all that water come thundering over those rocks."

"Faith then, to tell ye the honest truth," was the response, "Oj can't see anything so wonderful about that. What's there to prevent it from comin' over?"—Housekeeper.

WHO WOULDN'T SMILE?

Warden—See here! What are you laughing at?

CONGRESS ASSEMBLES

For Long Session With Democrats In Control.

LITTLETON AND STANLEY.

Steel Investigation Episode Is Causing Some Apprehension.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The first regular session of the sixty-second congress convened at noon to-day. Legislative machinery is ready for a long session. Speaker Clark and other leaders have predicted that adjournment may not come until after the National conventions of the two big political parties have been held. This has not happened since 1888.

The opening will not only be the start of a congress in which party leaders will struggle for party advantage at the polls next November in dealing with tariff, trust and other big problems, but it will initiate the brilliant winter social season at the nation's capital.

The session of the senate was perfunctory, the usual committees being appointed to advise the president and the house that the senate was in session.

In the house interest focused on Representative Martin W. Littleton, of New York, who will defend himself against criticism as a member of the house steel trust investigating committee. Democrats await with concern, because the effect it may have upon harmony in the party councils, while republican members eagerly await anything that may sound like democratic discomfiture.

Two Tremendous Porkers.

Two of the finest specimens ever raised in the way of hogflesh in this country were brought to the city last Friday. These animals each had a wagon to himself and attracted a deafening crowd on the street. They were the Tamworth and Poland China breeds.

The Tamworth was bred by Jno. C. Gay and raised by Jno. M. Major, of the Edwards' Mill vicinity. This giant rooster was 39 inches high and measured 6 feet 6 inches from snout to root of tail. He weighed exactly 800 pounds gross. The Poland China was bred and raised by J. J. Reed, of the same neighborhood, and weighed 710 lbs. It is claimed Mr. Major's Tamworth could have been fattened to weigh 1,000 pounds. He was not nearly so fat as the Poland China. These gentlemen are near neighbors and there has been a deal of friendly rivalry over these big porkers. Nearly every one guessed the Poland China would outweigh the Tamworth 100 lbs.

WRECK ON ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

Four Persons Killed In Accident Friday.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 1.—Four persons were killed and a score or more injured this evening, according to reports received here, when Illinois Central passenger train No. 101, bound from Louisville to New Orleans, went into the ditch twenty-eight miles east of here. The train is one of the fastest on the system. Spreading rails is said to be the cause. All the nine coaches went into the ditch, and then rolled over.

The scene of the wreck is remote from wire facilities. The train, said to have been running forty miles an hour, had crossed the Cumberland river and proceeded about a mile and a half when it left the track.

A relief train carrying surgeons and nurses was sent from here and the dead and injured were brought here.

Moving Some.

To show how the "house question" is complicated in Hopkinsville by the scarcity of houses the following series of "shuffles" will show.

Dr. W. E. Reynolds has sold his house on Walnut street to Dr. W. A. Lackey, and will move into a cottage on West 13th until he can build. Dr. Lackey will move when Dr. Reynolds vacates. Mr. S. Y. Trimble will move to the Lackey place sold to him. Mr. G. E. Dalton will move to the Keegan place vacated by Mr. Trimble. Miss Bet Ware will move to the Trice place vacated by Mr. Dalton, which she has purchased. Everybody is waiting for Dr. Reynolds to move, the house ahead of him being the only vacant one in the line.
